How to change a Minecraft skin.

Minecraft has evolved so much over the years that we are struggling to keep count of all the amazing things it allows you to do! But if you want to change your skin in the game of Micerafft, then we are here to consult you on that. There are two basic sets of instructions you may follow – that depends on whether you want to download a completely new skin from the ones that the built-in skin chooser has or if you want go further and download something you have found on our website.

Changing a Skin In-Game.

There is nothing as easy as changing a skin in Minecraft. The creators have succeeded at making it super easy for us, so let's go! You can change a skin by using the Skin Chooser feature, which is built in the actual game. You only have to click on the icon of a clothes hanger, which is situated below the image of your character on the main title screen.

You will then be taken to the activated Minecraft Skins Chooser. The place allows you to preview and select from a pretty wide variety of skins. Many of them are free, yet there are still some that need to be purchased with Minecraft Coins. The skins for purchase only are marked with an icon of a white lock.

How To Install Skins And Texture Packs On Minecraft Windows 10 UWP.

The Windows 10 Minecraft version supports skins and texture packs like its Java counterpart. Modding the look of Minecraft is something users love to do and there are texture packs that can dramatically change how the game looks. Here's how you can install skins and texture packs on Minecraft Windows 10 UWP.

SPOILER ALERT : Scroll down and watch the video tutorial at the end of this article.

Compatible Packs & Skins.

Before you install skins and texture packs on Minecraft Windows 10 UWP, it is important to know that the packs for the Java version are not compatible with the UWP version. Unfortunately, this means a good portion of some of the best, free packs cannot be used with the UWP app. It's yet another reason that more users stick to the Java version.

To find compatible packs, check the usual repositories and read their descriptions. If a pack states that it will work on the Windows 10 version, you can download it and try installing it. Skins are just PNG files so you will not have any trouble finding them for the Windows 10 version.

Minecraft Windows 10 Game Folder.

Assuming you've found a texture pack that is compatible with the Windows 10 version, here's how you can install it. The pack most likely came as a zipped file. Extract it to your desktop.

Next, open the following location in File Explorer.

Texture Packs.

The texture pack that you've extracted goes into the folder named 'Resource_packs'. It is one of the folders present in the above location. Paste the extracted folder here and Minecraft will be able to access it.

Next, you need to enable the texture pack. Open Minecraft and click Settings. Scroll down the left column, and click on Global Resources. Here, you will see a list of active, and available texture packs and it should include the one you moved to the resource_packs folder.

Select it, and click the Plus button to enable it. At any given time, you can have more than one texture pack enabled.

If a texture pack doesn't appear, it's likely incompatible with this version of Minecraft.

Skins.

Find and download a skin for Minecraft. It's going to download as a single PNG file. In some cases there may be more than one PNG file and each file will be a different variation of the same skin. For example, different colors of the same skin.

You can save the PNG file anywhere but it's a good idea to place it somewhere it won't accidentally be deleted.

Open Minecraft and click the little wirehanger icon under your avatar on the start screen. This will take you to the customize skin screen. In the Default box, click the avatar outline, and click the 'Choose New Skin' button in the Custom box.
