

download keynote for mac free full version crack

Question: Q: Can't download Keynote: OS X version 10.13 required.

I really need to get Keynote for my business presentation in coming days.

When I go to AppStore to Get it - this error pops out:

"We Could Not Complete Your Purchase.

Keynote can't be installed on "Macintosh HD" because OS X version 10.13 or later is required."

I currently have OS X El Capitan Version 10.11.6 - no software updates available.

1) How do I get it to 10.13 or later?

I haven't purchased KeyNote before to re-install it from Purchased panel.

2) Can I get KeyNote that will be suitable with OS X El Capitan Version 10.11.6 if I don't want to upgrade the whole software?

To see if your Mac is capable of running the latest Mac OS (at this time it is Mojave 10.14) check the hardware requirements:

Mac Hardware Requirements.

For details about your Mac model, click the Apple icon at the top left of your screen and choose About This Mac. These Mac models are compatible with macOS Mojave:

MacBook (Early 2015 or newer) MacBook Air (Mid 2012 or newer) MacBook Pro (Mid 2012 or newer) Mac mini (Late 2012 or newer) iMac (Late 2012 or newer) iMac Pro (2017) Mac Pro (Late 2013; Mid 2010 and Mid 2012 models.

If your Mac is compatible, install Mojave then install keynote.

If you have never installed Keynote in the past, the Mac App Store only has the latest version of Keynote available for download and previous versions are not available.

Question: Q: How do I get Keynote on OS high sierra 10.13.6?

Same issue here. That link just goes to the page for the latest version. It looks like we'll need something in version 7 of Keynote.

Can you point us in the right direction to find a compatible version?

For new users of Keynote, The Mac App Store only has available the latest version of Keynote. As the latest version of Keynote (7.3) is only compatible with Mac OS Sierra (10.12) you will need to upgrade to Sierra. Your Mac will need to be a MacBook Pro (Mid 2010 or newer) to run Sierra. You can upgrade using the Mac App Store.

You can still buy iWork '09 at various popular online stores. Not the latest version but some would say it's better.

I already have Keynote 6.6.2 and running on El Capitan.

I have tried to update Keynote (I have had problems with my versions, such as slides speeding up uncontrollably) but it just doesn't seem to work. Do I actually have to go on Sierra?

New numbers support only OS 10.12 or later. So, you have to update to Sierra or High Sierra.

Keynote 6.6.2 running in El Capitan works as it should with all our systems.

Try resetting Keynote using the following procedure:

1 - uninstall Keynote; for this procedure to work, an application removal tool must be used,

Appcleaner is free and works well for this.

It can be downloaded from the developers website: Appcleaner.

Try Eric Root's suggestions -- the Safe mode boot first, if you have already restarted your Mac.

thanks for your help, however this did not work. just tried it. sorry.

any other ideas?

Sorry for the delay.

The problem could be something to do with your account settings. One thing I could suggest is go to iTunes / Account / View My Account / Payment type / Edit and make it None. Then redo it and put in your payment details.

Reboot and best of luck! □

You are posting this on the Mac OS X Lion Community, yet your profile says you have High Sierra, so which is it?

The latest updates for those apps are for macOS Sierra and above.

Are you using WiFi to download, you might have better results if you can use a cabled connection to your router.

Keynote for Mac.

Keynote is an Apple software for designing and creating presentations. The program offers a range of tools to add graphics and animation, amongst other creative aids.

Engage your audience.

Utilize the software to make school projects, work presentations, or to distribute information. Keynote understands that your presentation is unique to you or your organization. That's why it feels good that they give you a wide range of tools to let your inner creativity loose.

You can create different free-form shapes, curves, and lines. Add a personal touch to your work with custom made shapes. Draw arrows to make your points stand out more. Demonstrate the trends of your graph by creating your own curve.

Choose from a number of pre-made templates if you're in a rush and don't want to make your own. Keynote provides some colorful and carefully-designed templates for you to work around. Polish off a presentation in no time, with the simple interface and ideas provided.

Keynote comes packaged with engaging graphics and animations. It has a helpful Magic Note tool that makes animations look effortless. This helps you bring your work to life with various animations that can either be created in Keynote or exported from outside programs.

Share your work in any format that suits you or your audience. Keynote can be exported in its original presentation form, or as an auto-play slide show. So your audience can sit back and let Keynote bring the show to them. Send your presentation as a PDF or word document as well, so all the critical information can be read easily.

Import presentations from PowerPoint and view them on Keynote. This enables you to watch presentations from non-Keynote users without needing to download any external programs. The only downside to this, however, is that Keynote presentations don't work as well on PowerPoint. While you can still export presentations to PowerPoint, some graphics or animations may not function correctly.

Where can you run this program?

This software is designed by Apple for use with the macOS desktop and the iPad.

Is there a better alternative?

Yes. Keynote is impressive, but there are many alternatives that aren't exclusive to Apple. Check out Google Presentations or Microsoft PowerPoint for similar tools.

Our take.

Keynote is a simple, yet elegant way to create presentations and export them in various file formats. Its exclusivity to Apple products makes it less appealing than its alternatives, however.

Should you download it?

Keynote is already pre-installed on the MacBook, and you should definitely give it a try if you own one. On the iPad however, you'd be better off downloading Google Presentations.
