IMDb: Movies and TV Shows.

My go to resource for finding information about films and TV series! You can be confident in the ratings!

IMDb (Internet Movie Database) is one of the most popular and trusted sources for film and TV reviews, and other related entertainment content. The IMDb app contains the best content from the ever evolving website and collates it into a practical package. The site was launched in 1990 as a user generated experience, it is now owned by Amazon.

How Does it Work?

With the app you can sign into your IMDb account, rate films and series that you have viewed and receive personalised recommendations. You can view IMDb's Top 250 films, based on their rating system, or you can create your own lists based on your personal preferences.

You can also watch up and coming film trailers, find out when films are being screened in cinemas near you and buy your tickets.

How to Download TV Shows for Free.

Downloading TV shows for free is tricky at times. The big reason why is that a lot of sites on the Internet advertise for it, but then charge fees to use their services. So how do you download a TV show for free? You have two options. You can do it using iTunes and a TV show's website. Both offer free TV shows, especially the trailers of new TV shows.

Pull up iTunes. Check to the right side of the page for the "Download" button. Click on it and follow the process.

Open up the iTunes store. Find the listing for it on the side bar to the far left of the iTunes application. It is under the title "STORE." Click on this name and a new page will pop up.

Go to the "TV Show" section on iTunes. You will find the section lead-in on the side bar to the left side of the iTunes page store. (It isn't the initial side bar you used.) It will be under the title "iTunes STORE." Click on "TV Shows" and it will take you to another page.

Scan the middle of the page and check for TV shows with "Free" labeled across them. Click on those icons and they will take you to another page listing the TV show you can download to free. You can also do a search for free TV shows by adding those three words in the search box at the upper left corner of the iTunes page.

Download your free TV show by picking an episode. You will see a list in the middle of the TV show page. Scan across to the left and click on "Free" to add it to computer. Afterward, you can go back out of the iTunes store and pull up your new episode and watch it.

Visit the official channel or network website for the television show you want to download. Main networks include NBC, FOX, ABC and CBS, while popular cable channels include MTV, USA and CNN.

Select the website of the TV show you want to download for free. For instance, if you enjoy watching the TV show "Psych" that airs on USA, you should pick the listing of USA or Psych TV. This selection should take you directly to the website for the TV show.

Scan the menu on the website of the TV show and click on "Episodes." After you go to a new page, check for free episodes. If you see any, click on them and download them to your computer. Many stations will air free ones to get you hooked on the TV program, especially before the start of a new season.

It's good to have an idea of what TV show you want to download for free before you start this process.

Warnings.

If you can't find a free episode of a TV show you want to watch, move on. You can probably download a similar show that is free.

12 Best Free Movie & TV Show Streaming Sites in 2021.

There used to be a time where I was forced to either hit the cinema to watch movies or to buy them at the store. Not saying that I regretted those times but I am sure grateful that I have more choices now with credit to the convenience of watching movies right from the comfort of my couch.

There are several streaming websites for watching tv shows, movies, and documentaries but they aren't all worthy of entrusting your data. A few of them are also illegal sites.

Today's article presents you a list of the most credible online sources for streaming movies and TV shows in different qualities. The best of them offer subtitles in different languages, light/dark mode, account registration, and a beautiful user interface.

They all feature a simple beautiful user interface (except #9 and 10) and a responsive media player with volume, caption, and display settings, links to important pages e.g. privacy policy, and sometimes ads. This list does not include the obvious options like YouTube or Amazon especially since they don't always have the latest movies and TV shows you might be interested in watching.

StreamingSites.

StreamingSites is a free resource that lists the best streaming websites 2020 has to offer. With it, you will find links to both free and paid websites where you can watch TV shows, anime, sports, animations, and premium HD movies.

It features a beautiful, easy-to-use user interface with the different sites sorted by quality and the developers have made an extra effort to make sure customers enjoy a free, virus-free, and secure streaming experience.

1. NOXX.

NOXX is a beautiful website dedicated to streaming TV shows in HD quality. From the homepage, you can select any of the featured TV shows or use its menu to scroll through the timeline page and view shows in order of their release dates. You can select to menu's browse option and then filter show options by their genre.

2. Vumoo.

Vumoo is a free movie and TV show streaming website with a minimalist UI. Use it by going to the Movies or TV-Series page, or by using the search field. The developers probably saw no need for a category page given its swift search feature that suggests the currently available titles as you type into the search box.

3. LookMovie.

LookMovie is a movie and TV show streaming website for watching movies in high definition or low quality as the case may be. You can filter movies by year, genre, rating, release date, or IMDb rating. It displays ads as a method for generating revenue but also gives the option to make donations even with any of 6 cryptocurrencies.

4. YesMovies.

YesMovies is a movie streaming website with a robust filter and categorization feature that works nicely with its dark UI theme albeit with ads. On it, you can filter movies by release year, most viewed, IMDb rating, genre, country, and quality. My favourite feature about YesMovies is the option to watch movies and TV show trailers in HD.

9. Soap2Day.

Soap2Day is a popular website for watching movies and TV shows without the need to register an account or worry about annoying pop-up ads. It is one of the only websites in this that doesn't put an emphasis on only movies and TV series given its menu link to sports shows such as the NBA Playoffs 2019 and Fifa World Cup 2018.

It doesn't have a robust filter like other sites but you can search for entries by title, directors, or actors.

10. Yify TV.

Yify TV (Ymovies) is the free movie streaming website hosted by the popular movie torrent boss, YTS. It has the most unconventional listing scheme compared to the other sites in this list but you might find it nifty since you have the most likely search and filter options laid out onscreen.

It has a robust search feature that employs range filters coupled with several genre options and the choice of viewing movies in a list or grid format.
